LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Trial of two men charged with assault with intent to kill in an attack on Mayor Frank Burke of Stamps began today in circuit court here.

Officers said two men gave Burke a beating in his office March 6. No motive has been announced.

Judge Lyle Brown presided at the trial. Selection of a jury was scheduled this morning.

Ruling Junta Facing Crisis in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The ruling government junta grappled today with the most serious political crisis since it seized power from Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez's dictatorship in January.

The junta's two civilian members have resigned without explanation.

The three remaining military members were threatened with a general strike if they showed signs of breaking the junta's promise to hold nationwide elections.

"The people will go into the streets in a general strike just as they did in January," said Publio Ojeda, whose Junta Patriótica was one of the key civilian groups in the January revolution.

Ojeda said the strike could come if the government command remained entirely military of if the two civilians who resigned, Eugenio Mendoza and Blas Lambert, are replaced with reactionary elements.

However, he expressed confidence that liberal civilians would be appointed to the government junta, which now consists of Adolfo Wolfgang Larrazabal, Col. Pedro Quevedo, chairman, and Col. Carlos Luis Araque. They have promised to hold elections but have not set a date.

Meanwhile, Col. Miguel Ramon de la Rosa, former governor of the federal district of Caracas, told newsmen seven high officials of the Perez Jimenez regime were arrested during the weekend and apparently charged with planning a political upheaval.

Those arrested included a former glee president of the Chamber of Deputies, a former senator and a millionaire banker, said De la Rosa, who was fired as district governor Friday. Informal sources said the junta removed him because of the riots against U. S. Vice President Nixon last Tuesday.

Class Visits Hope Star Shop

Hope High School Beauties

FOUR BEAUTIES at Hope High were recently chosen by Dick Prendergast and Ed Sullivan, center, co-captains of the Notre Dame football team. They are, front center, Queen Judy Kaye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright; and the other three finalists, Mary Ann Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hall, far left; Cynthia Foster, daughter of Mrs. R. R. Foster, back center; and Glenda Huckabee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Huckabee, at the right. Sara Lou Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ellis, another finalist, is not in the picture.

LIGHT WORK—Two policemen are erecting a plug-in traffic light at an intersection in Oldenburg, West Germany. Currently being tested in the city, the signal is held upright and supplied with power through the small opening in the street. Plugs at important intersections permit rapid installation of the portable lights when needed, as during rush hours.

Supreme Court Rejects Appeal of Rape-Slayer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today set aside the conviction of Frank Andrew Payne, Arkansas Negro who was sentenced to death for the robbery-murder of his white employer.

Payne was convicted by an all white jury of killing J. N. Robertson, lumberman of Pine Bluff, Ark., on Oct. 4, 1955.

Justice Whitaker delivered the 7-2 decision. Justices Burton and Clark dissented.

Counsel for Payne in appealing to the high court said Payne took the witness stand at his trial and admitted he had struck Robertson with an iron bar.

The state related that Payne made a confession, re-enacting the murder, pointed out where the iron weapon had been thrown in a ditch, and showed police where he had hidden $440 of the stolen money in a piano in his home.

Payne's counsel in the appeal contended his rights under the U. S. Constitution were violated, arguing that his statement to police was coerced.

The counsel also asserted Negroes were discriminated against in the selection of the jury commission and the trial jury panel.

One died before Payne's trial and the other was excused because he said he opposed capital punishment.

Officers Probe Two Auto Accidents Here

Hope City Police report two auto accidents and a stolen bicycle during the weekend.

Saturday on Highway 87, near Tol-Pex, autos driven by Richard Pharris and Mrs. George F. Brown collided with considerable damage resulting. Pharris was treated for minor injuries at a local clinic, officers said.

At Sun and Spring Hill road autos driven by L. H. Reese of Prescott and James S. Gail of Spring Hill collided with heavy damage resulting. Both City Police charged Gail with hazardous driving and no brakes.

Officers said a bicycle owned by Thomas Pruitt was stolen Sunday from the Jeger School.

Faubus Thinks Negroes Eligible for Any Position

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, who was forced last year by federal troops to permit Negroes to attend an all-white high school in Little Rock, said today Negroes should be eligible to attain any job including his own.

The Democratic governor said race relations in Arkansas are better than "almost any place in the world" and that in many other Southern states. He blamed "the press" and "publicity" for the Little Rock uproar.

The state governors are attending their annual conference here.

Interviewed on the Dave Garraway "Today" television program over NBC, Faubus said Negroes head many state institutions in Arkansas, and added, "We recognize a Negro can go anywhere his abilities will take him."

Asked if that included the governorship, Faubus said, "If he can be elected, yes. We have no restrictions on voting x x x. There are Negroes who have as good a job as anyone else x x x who drive better cars than I do. A Negro should be eligible to become anything I can become."

Faubus said places that had worse race relations with riots in which persons were killed included South Africa, India, Arab countries and Algeria.

He said it was part of Communist propaganda to foment race trouble and added, "I don't think we should fall into their trap."

Gov. George Leiner (D-Pa.), appearing on the same program, said the United States should have a far higher standard of morality than other less fortunate nations.

"We are going to be judged on how we treat a minority," he said, adding that Negroes were "pressed" into sub-standard living conditions and denied good jobs that would help them raise their standard of living.

The governor criticized the federal aid program in the light of the anti-American reception given Vice President Richard Nixon recently in South America. Leiner said foreign aid had lacked "the proper spirit" and Faubus said the United States "gave them money and hoped they'd go away."

Rural Overseas Program to Be Explained

The Christian Rural Overseas program will be explained for the purpose of aiding in the development of the Hempstead County crop organization Tuesday afternoon, May 20 at 2 o'clock, in the Hope City Hall Municipal Court room. County Agent Oliver L. Adams is assisting other groups in making necessary local arrangements.

E. A. Hansen, Agricultural Extension Service, Little Rock, serving as District CROP Chairman, will present a short film showing the need for the CROP organization, and then lead a discussion on county and state CROP organization work. After a brief group discussion is expected that a Hempstead County organization will be set up.

Several organizations have been contacted by the state executive committee of CROP for their support by attending the county meeting. Invitations have been extended to representatives of these organizations plus others that were thought to have interest. Any other individual or group interested is invited to attend the Tuesday afternoon meeting.

All Around Town

Treasurer Mrs. Sally Andrews reports a total of $1,004.03 contributed to the Hempstead County Red Cross drive through last Saturday.

This is far short of the quota according to Pap Willis, drive chairman, who urges everyone to turn in their contributions immediately.

Mr. Willis had special praise of the Negro Red Cross drive which turned in a total of $127.23 Friday.

Martha Richardson, Leta Sanders and Lois Shirley of Lois Beauty Shop, attended a convention at Shreveport last weekend.

Mrs. Jan Moses Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Moses of Hope is among the outstanding Indiana University students nominated for scholarship achievement in recent Indiana's Day ceremonies at Anderson School Teachers College. Alice Ann Anthony of Hope was named.

Incidentally Jerry Franks, 6'2", 180 pounds, of Hope has been selected to play with the West team in the annual All-Star High School basketball game at Little Rock, August 10, and Coach Don Sevier will help coach the Hope squad.

DeGaulle Repudiates Dictator Role, Tension in French Crisis Grows

U. S. Diplomat Is Unwelcome in Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today a young American diplomat who had been attending Moscow University has been declared unwelcome inside the Soviet Union.

The department said the ouster of John A. Baker Jr. was protested without avail by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson.

A spokesman was asked whether a Soviet diplomat had been ordered out of the United States in reciprocity. He replied, "No, not up to this point."

Baker was accused of the Soviet Foreign Ministry of having "systematically violated the norms of behavior" for diplomatic representatives.

Baker, on leave in London with his wife and infant child, denied the accusation.

The State Department said Thompson sought Saturday to get an explanation for the action from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, but Gromyko refused.

Baker was the only U.S. diplomat in Moscow ever permitted to attend regular classes at Moscow University, the State Department said. He had been attending classes in Russian medieval history.

Two Hope Men in Wrecks, One Critically Hurt

Traffic accidents, usually a leading cause of violent death, accounted for only two of Arkansas' 18 fatalities during the week which ended Sunday midnight.

Five died the last with seven victims, including a young mother and four small children who died Tuesday when fire razed their rural home near Pollard in Clay County.

Three persons drowned. There were two fatal industrial mishaps and two shootings. The crash of a private plane and a stabbing each claimed a life.

Shirley Jean Murray, a 7-year-old Negro girl, was struck and killed by a car outside the city limits of Pine Bluff Sunday night during a light rain.

State Trooper Willie Ingram quoted the driver, Sam Paden of near Pine Bluff, as saying the girl dashed out into the street.

A Stillwell, Okla., blacksmith was shot to death Saturday night near Siloam Springs. Sheriff Joe Means said Gayle Rowe, 18, admitted firing at Ben Moss, 57, with a shotgun and killed Moss was abusing his mother, Mrs. Florence Gamel.

Rove is Mrs. Gamel's son by a previous marriage. Police said Moss planned to marry Mrs. Gamel.

An accident near Texarkana involving three automobiles killed one person Sunday.

A. Z. C. Weldon Jr., 18, en route home to Huntington, Tex., from Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio, died in the smashup.

State Trooper Charles Boyd said Clegg's car, midway through one, approaching car, then plowed into another driven by James Smith, 53, of Palmox, Smith, traveling alone, was critically injured.

Clegg's companion, Roy Spurgin Jr., 21, of DeSoto (Mo.), Tex., a sailor stationed in Rhode Island, was injured less seriously.

The driver of the other car involved, Dean Hamilton, about 21, of Hope, was not hurt.

The body of John Hildreth, a farmer who lived near Turin, was recovered Saturday from a ditch near a St. Francis River levee. Officers said Hildreth apparently drowned Thursday when his tractor plunged from a small bridge into the ditch.

But Would Try to Lead Nation Out of Chaos

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle today repudiated the role of dictator but said he remains ready to try to lead France out of chaos.

"The wartime hero described himself as 'a man belonging to nobody but belonging to all' and added:

"I have never attacked the fundamental liberties of the republic. No, I restored them. 'How would you have me at 67 start a career as a dictator?'"

But he made it clear he feels the present situation with party enemies in Paris and the army in near revolt in Algeria, is hopeless. He said the parties have betrayed France.

He expressed his views at a packed news conference in a hotel. As he spoke, the first signs of a Communist-called order to stop work were being felt in Paris. Police were on the alert at every nerve center in the city.

The general, dressed in a gray suit, spoke in a firm voice but made a statement and cut off questioning after a half-hour.

"I am going back to my village but I remain at the disposition of the country," he said.

At the outset, De Gaulle made it clear he felt that the present regime, encompassing many parties, could accomplish nothing.

He and his wife, Benita Hume, had been living on their ranch here.

As he spoke to a news conference, the city's subway system came to a halt and many buses left their runs. This was in response to a Communist call of protest. The Communists picture De Gaulle as aiming at a one-man rule.

Thousands of police stood alert to prevent any demonstrations for or against the general.

De Gaulle again did not specify the exact terms under which he would assume national leadership. But he insisted this would have to be on his terms—not in the way a long string of premiers have followed since 1946, through solicitation of support from various parties. The present government is the 25th since World War II.

De Gaulle blamed the Algerian situation on the Paris government and said the army officers there are not rebels in his book. Actually, he said, the army deserves a "well done" for keeping disorders from turning into riots.

Cost of Homes to Veterans Increases

The average paid for new GI houses last year was $14,535, compared with $13,990 in 1956.

Used homes cost an average of $12,100 last year, up only $130 from 1956.

It takes a GIANT to speed up traffic

It takes a giant highway to speed up automotive traffic and it takes a giant medium to speed up sales traffic. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

Reader traffic through the daily newspaper is greater than ever. According to Sindlinger & Co., national statistical analysts, newspaper reader traffic reached an all-time high of 100,000,000 on an average day in January. More people read newspapers than viewed, listened to or read any other medium.

Reader traffic leads to sales traffic. The greater the traffic the greater the opportunity for retailers, wholesalers, distributors and regional manufacturers to sell more goods to more people. Your daily newspaper gives you that opportunity to knock at practically every door every day throughout the year.

Your newspaper makes it easier and faster for you to reach more prospects in your trading area. Use the direct route to speed up your sales. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

American Loop Looks Same, Yanks on Top

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bring back the old split season. That's what the American League ought to be yelling today as they look at the first widening gap between the streaking New York Yankees and the rest of the field.

Six straight Yankee victories and 10 in their last 11 games put Casey Stengel's team almost out of the season. Only one other club is playing better than the 500 ball-Kansas City. That A's pulled out second place with a 13-12 won-lost record but they're struggling, 6 1/2 games back.

Unless somebody can trip the Yanks on their first Western trip, this race could kill off interest in the league.

The Yanks knocked over Washington twice Sunday, 5-2 for Sal Maglie and 3-0 behind Bob Turley. Duke Maas boosted the A's into second place with a 2-0 two-hitter against his former Detroit mates.

Dick Gornert hit two home runs and Jackie Jensen a tremendous three-run 450-foot drive in Boston's 8-4 victory over Baltimore. Cleveland swept a pair from Chicago 7-4 and 10-6, winning the first in the 11th on Rookie Carroll Hardy's three-run homer.

Maglie slugged a three-run homer, his first in the American League, in the opener. Ryne Duran belted him out of ninth-inning trouble. Mickey Mantle also homered.

Detroit's only hits off Maas were a single by Charlie Maxwell and a pinch triple by Charlie Lau. Paul Foytack was the loser, yielding both runs in the second.

Gornert drove in four Boston runs with his two homers and a double while Jensen added three singles to his long homer. Frank Sullivan was the winner over Billy Loos.

Rookie Carroll Hardy was sent up to bat for Roger Maris in the 11th at Cleveland when Chicago changed from a right-hander to lefty Bill Pierce. Gary Geiger and Minnie Miemietz were on base when he drove Pierce's pitch into the left field stands. Ray Nardeski was the winner over Jim Wilson. The Indians came back to take the second after spilling the Sox four runs in the first inning with Don Mossi taking the decision.

Boyer Bangs Out of Slump in Grand Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. LOUIS (U. S. — Ken Boyer banged out of a batting slump with a grand-slam homer and four singles for the St. Louis Cardinals then sounded this warning for National League pitchers:

"I have a lot more good days coming."

The big Cardinal third baseman said he never lost his confidence during his slump. National League pitchers never lost their respect for Boyer either.

But the fact was that Boyer owned a lowly .105 average before his big 5-for-8 day against the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday. This lifted his average 42 points to .207.

His grand-slam homer proved the difference in a 6-5 Redbird victory in the opener. One of his singles in the second game was a vicious line drive off the right field screen.

A slotted natural athlete, he muscled 6-foot-2 Boyer, 26, has become the most-analyzed member of the St. Louis team.

This is because he was one of the game's top sluggers with 20 homers and 60 runs batted in through the first half of the 1956 season and the Cards tagged him as the National League's answer to Mickey Mantle of New York.

Ten his slugging fell off and the analysts went to work.

Manager Fred Hutchinson benched him in the Milwaukee series and he took extra batting practice, arriving an hour earlier than the other players every game.

The extra work paid off. Boyer regained his batting eye, but the slump hung on — all his line drives it seemed, were going right at someone.

Boyer who kept batting and his teammates encouraged him.

Then came his first big day of the season.

NATIONAL OBSERVATORY — Kitt Peak, in the Quinlan Mountains, 40 miles southwest of Tucson, Ariz., has been approved by the National Science Foundation as the site for a new National Astronomical Observatory. The site, at an elevation of 6,875 feet, was recommended after a three-year study by AURA, Inc., the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy. Standing before a temporary observing tower are, left to right: Dr. E. P. Carpenter (U. of Ariz.), Dr. F. K. Edmondson (National Science Foundation), Dr. J. C. Duncan (U. of Ariz.) and Dr. A. B. Antonelli, Miller Hurl Giants Into Loop Lead Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The time has come to take seriously the dashing play of the San Francisco Giants.

Johnny Antonelli and Stu Miller pitched the Giants into the National League lead Sunday with back-to-back complete games in Chicago. Left-handed Johnny held the Cubs to five hits in the 7-3 opener and slow ballster Miller, who failed to finish a game in 13 starts year ago, threw a three-hitter, 4-0, in the second game.

Cincinnati's 11-7 blackball job on Milwaukee kept the Giants on top by one full game but only two percentage points.

Philadelphia may have exploded the Pittsburgh bubble, completing a four-game series sweep by knocking off the Pirates 6-4 and 6-2 at Sanford, 1957 Rookie of the Year, and Ray Sempach, who may be a 1958 candidate, did the pitching job. Sempach went all the way but Sanford needed help from Dick Farrell.

Carl Erskine stopped the Los Angeles spin for at least one game when he shut out St. Louis 4-0 to gain an even split for the Dodgers. The Cardinals won the first game 6-5 on Ken Boyer's grand-slam homer, their 10th victory in 11 games.

Danny O'Connell, Willie Kirkland and Jim Davenport were the big men for the Giants at Chicago. O'Connell had two doubles in the first game and a single, double and triple in the second. Kirkland drove in three runs in the first game with a single and triple and added two more singles in the second. Davenport had three hits, including a pair of doubles, in the second.

Antonelli held the Cubs hitless for five innings until pinch hitter Bobby Adams slugged a triple to open the sixth. The Cubs hit only six balls out of the infield on Miller's slow stuff.

George Crowe and De Pando hit home runs for Cincinnati, where Red Purkey finally smacked in with a 13-hitter. Lew Burdette was chased by the Redlegs.

Purkey gave up two homers to Joe Adcock and one each to Johnny Logan and Eddie Matthews.

A beaning controversy flared in the fourth when Frank Robinson was hit by Milwaukee's Dick Littlefield. The pitcher was warned.

A similar ribbard had developed Saturday night when two Braves were hit by pitched balls.

Boyer homered for the Cardinals in the first inning of the first game after Fred Kipp after fouling eight pitchers on a 3-2 count. Rube Watson and Johnny Roseboro homered for the Dodgers in the first game. Gil Hodges and Charlie Neal in the second.

Chuck Esselgen and Rip Renelt hit home runs for the Phils while Dick Groat and Frank Thomas homered for the Pirates in their first game. Harry Anderson

Sports in Brief

OKLAHOMA CITY (U. S. — Alan Morrison of Texarkana, Ark., Saturday was named to the West team for the second annual prep basketball world series. The East-West contest will be staged June 5-7 at Hutchinson, Kan.

PARAGOULD, Ark. (U. S. — Kelly Pigue, 18, an infielder, and Junior Dowdy, 19, a pitcher, signed $5000 bonus baseball contracts with the Boston Red Sox following their graduation from Greene County Tech High School here. Both will report to the Class D Lexington Neb., club about June 1.

FORREST CITY, Ark. (U. S. — Sixteen major league baseball scouts watched high school star Elmer (Bee) Lindsey deliver a single, two doubles and two home runs Saturday when Forrest City whipped Brinkley 29 - 2. Lindsey plans to pass up 27 offers of college football scholarships to sign with one on the major league clubs after the state high school finals in Little Rock later this month.

Would Pick Courses for Each Student

OMAHA (U. S. — A university president contends that high school students should not be permitted to choose their own courses.

"I contend that teenagers don't know at that age what they want," said the Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S.J., president of St. Louis University.

Father Reinert was among the speakers at the 62nd annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which plunged into its first work sessions today.

Failure to develop the potential of so-called "gifted" students, "one of the great crimes of this country," said Father Reinert.

He declared in an interview the schools have been lax in developing the huge pool of intellectual talent represented by these children.

But Mrs. Robin Brown, Los Angeles, national PTA president, said this problem is linked to what she called today's most serious educational problem: the shortage of good teachers.

Mrs. Brown called adequate salaries the No. 1 requirement in recruiting teachers. "With this solved," she asserted, "we will be able to have smaller classroom populations and give the attention necessary to the gifted child as well as to the average student."

Cardinal Has Stroke After Amputation

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch, whose right arm was amputated three weeks ago, suffered a stroke today. Word reaching the Vatican was that his condition was grave.

The 70-year-old Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago previously had been recovering well from the amputation which was made necessary by a blood clot in the arm. Sunday he had celebrated Mass for the first time since the operation.

The cardinal was stricken again early today but by noon had recovered consciousness. A source close to Vatican authorities said he had improved slightly, "can talk again and can recognize people."

A medical bulletin said, "Prognosis is reserved for the present," meaning that the doctors would not forecast the outcome of the cardinal's latest attack.

A medical bulletin issued by Dr. Ralph Bergen, the cardinal's personal physician from Chicago, and Italian Dr. Filippo Rocchi said "His Eminence Cardinal Stritch, prefect of the Congregation for Propagation of the Faith, during the early hours of Monday, May 19, suffered a cerebral vascular accident."

"There is a weakness of the muscles of his right leg and face. Prognosis is reserved for the present."

The cardinal's personal aides said they could not immediately give any fuller information on the stroke.

The prelate is still at the Rome clinic where he underwent the amputation April 28, but in recent days he had been spending part of each day at Chicago House, the residence headquarters for priests and students from Chicago studying in Rome.

Nose Cone Is Recovered in Good Shape

By JACK KING

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Juniper Intermediate range missile—a project the Army almost lost five months ago—apparently is the first ballistic weapon to solve the re-entry challenge.

Army rocket men at the nation's missile test center agreed the recent success was due to an almost perfect shot of the Juniper shortly after midnight Sunday.

Some 4½ hours after the launching the huge nose cone—the first full-sized warhead ever mounted on a Jupiter IRBM—was plucked out of the Atlantic by frogmen and the crew of a Navy auxiliary submarine rescue ship.

First reports indicated the re-entry test was a complete success. The precious nose cone was taken to Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., where Army scientists will study its intricate instruments to learn the secrets of re-entering the earth's atmosphere without burnout after a cruise through space.

It was the first time a full-scale ballistic missile nose cone has been recovered intact. The only other recovery came last Aug. 4 when a four-foot nose cone was retrieved from the sea.

"This is the same Juniper the Defense Department ordered the Army to drop last December. Later, however, it was decided that the Army should continue with development and production of the weapon."

Most details of the missile's latest performance are classified. But it was reported unofficially that the Juniper was fired at a range of just over 1,600 miles.

The launching ran like clockwork. The 99-foot missile lifted away with a mighty roar and billows of white flame.

It was seen as a tiny yellow dot in the sky for almost three minutes. Then engine burnout occurred and the rocket began its free flight through space.

The Juniper, now in mass production by Chrysler Corp. and expected to be operational with troops late this year, was designed for a range of 1,500 miles, at 2,200 miles.

Control Seems Some Better in Lebanon

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Government forces held control again today in the streets of Tripoli after a weekend of bitter fighting between loyalists and insurgent Moslem nationalists.

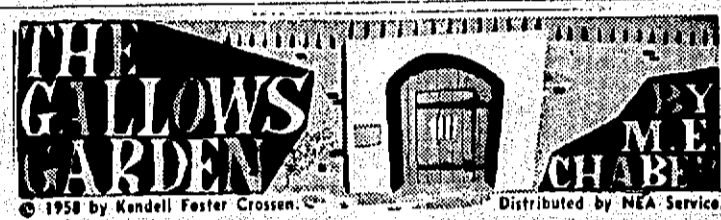

At least 60 persons were reported killed in the bloodiest fight of Lebanon's internal strife. Government forces finally stormed a stronghold of piller fighting between loyalists and insurgent Moslem nationalists.

And her reported factor was an order by Rashid Karhail, a top opposition leader, for his forces to stop fighting because casualties were growing.

President Camille Chamoun, who heads the Lebanese government, said the Moslem forces were not working tonight. We are merely going into the dining room so you can again relax in the comfortable chair and SACKS ALIVE!—Perhaps trying to prove that a sack by any other name would look the same, Bruce Hinds, 13, wore a burlap sack to school in Dallas, Tex., to illustrate his opinion of ladies' fashions. Judging from the look on the face of Gretchen Phillips, 12, the coarse chemise somehow just doesn't do a thing for him.

THE STORY: Milo March has gone to Puerto Torpedo, in the Monican Republic, in search of a missing manuscript exposing the Monican dictator. He has been given a code password with which he is to identify himself to members of the Monican underground who are to contact him.

CHAPTER XIII

She was a short one. No more than five, three. With a short blonde hair and the dark skin you find on Spanish blondes. She must have been aware that I was looking her over for when my eyes finally came back to her face she was waiting, a little smile pulling at the corners of her mouth.

"If this is any kind of mistake," I said in Spanish, "just don't let me find out about it until later."

"Senor March," she asked, "I am Scortilla Fulano. Dichosos los ojos que le ven a usted."

That was the name, and the password for the underground. "No," I corrected her, "happy are the eyes that see you. I must admit that I was expecting something different. A man, that is."

She smiled. "There was a man who was supposed to come to see you, but unfortunately he is in prison."

"I am sorry he is in prison," I said, "but not as sorry as I might have been under different circumstances." I had a sudden idea that I liked. "I'm not sure that my room is a good place to talk. I was about to have dinner downstairs. Why don't you join me?"

"Out in the public is a better place to talk," she asked with a smile.

"In the middle of any sort of crowd is always the best place to tell secrets."

When we reached the lobby, the dining room was to the left, but I turned to the right. I went to test something. I told her, "We walked across the lobby straight toward the doors. One man had risen from a chair in the lobby and was starting to sneeze toward us. He looked like a con-foo."

"Now, let's go back," I said to the girl. We turned and marched back the way we'd come. The con-foo slowed up and looked confused. So then I knew I was right. When we reached him, I stopped.

I asked for a match. He fumbled around until he found some matches. I found a cigarette and lit it. Then I handed the matches back to him.

"In the meantime," I continued, "having made the acquaintance of a beautiful young lady, you might say that I am not working tonight. We are merely going into the dining room so you can again relax in the comfortable chair and vill. The Moslems want the government to alien its policy with Naefer's. They also fear that Chamoun, a Christian, will have the constitution amended to permit his re-election to another six-year term.

Tripoli has been the chief center of resistance to the government. It was there that rioting first broke out 10 days ago and the U.S. information library in the port was sacked. Since then, as trouble spread over the country, an estimated 130 to 200 persons have been killed in pitched battles, bombings, and raids.

The United States, over the weekend, flew 15 B-26 bombers to Tripoli and sent carriers to Europe where they could be used to ferry units of the Middle East to evacuate Americans from Lebanon. An Air Force spokesman at Frankfurt, Germany, said there were no orders for the plane yet.

not provide for a review where alleged errors had been finally litigated or waived in the proceedings resulting in the conviction.

Bailey's attorney said the trial judge erred in refusing to call jury commissioners to testify, apparently in support of a contention that Negroes were excluded from jury service.

The Supreme Court said this point had been passed on in a former appeal and that no new grounds for review had been raised.

A petition for rehearing may be filed with the Supreme Court within 17 days. If no petition is filed or if one is filed and rejected it will be up to Gov. Orval Faubus to set a new date for Bailey's execution.

Bailey was convicted of entering the home of the prosecuting witness and raping her about two years ago. The death sentence was affirmed on the original appeal.

The 1917 law—known as the uniform post-conviction act—also was invoked unsuccessfully recently in behalf of Emmett Earl Leggett, under death sentence for the strangulation slaying of 14-year-old Joe King of Jacksonville. Leggett has now appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

In a 4-3 opinion, the Supreme Court upheld Franklin Chancery Court in ordering John Bollinger to remove his filling station from the right of way of State Highway 22 in the city of Charleston.

Bollinger contended that the station was not on the right of way and further that a 1927 order which set out the original limits was void on several grounds, including lack of a definite description.

The Chancery Court and the Supreme Court majority held against him. The prevailing opinion was written by Associate Justice Ed F. McFaddin. Chief Justice Carlton Harris and Associate Justices George Jesse Smith and Paul Ward dissented.

A $2,730 judgment in favor of a Jonesboro resident who was struck by an automobile while pushing a lawn mower along a street was affirmed by the Supreme Court.

The judgment was awarded by a Craighead Circuit Court jury in favor of Loren Stalen against Capola Bennett.

The Supreme court said Stalen was pushing the mower on a Jonesboro street when he was struck from the rear by the automobile on July 14, 1956.

The automobile driver contended that Stalen was guilty of contributory negligence.

Union Circuit Court was affirmed in its denial of a workmen's compensation claim sought by C. C. Ward against C. H. Nolen. Ward claimed he suffered a ruptured disc in his back while employed in Nolen's sawmill. Before reaching the Supreme Court, the claim had been rejected by the Workmen's Compensation Commission and by the circuit court.

Highway Cost Varies in Every State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said today an interstate check has shown "a disturbing lack of uniformity" in ways of preparing cost estimates for the interstate highway network.

"The estimates form the basis on which federal funds are allocated among the states. Lack of uniformity in the estimates would tend to increase some states' shares and lower others," the senator said.

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of the interstate superhighways.

Gore said the system was criticized in a report from the General Accounting Office, which made the study at his request. The report noted, however, that the Bureau of Public Roads defended its apportionments as fair and reasonable.

The senator said the Public Roads subcommittee he heads will meet Tuesday to consider the GAO report.

Because federal aid funds for highways must be voted and apportioned well in advance, Gore said, the division among states for fiscal 1959, which begins July 1, and fiscal 1960, a year later, must stand.

Gore said in a statement the GAO sampling survey found that design standards, traffic estimates, and costs lacked the uniformity asked by Congress in passing the Highway Act.

States involved in the GAO check were California, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Texas, Virginia and Washington.

Food and transportation are the two major expenses of out-of-state travelers. Lodging is third, followed by amusements and recreation. Altogether, $98 million was spent on these items in the last year.

Several students watched in horror as Wright tumbled over the falls and into a pool in the gorge. They were thunderstruck when Wright came up out of the water, swam to shore and walked off nonchalantly.

College officials said it was not unusual that Wright did not strike any falling rocks as he fell.

Senate Studies Facts Behind Nixon Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee starts an inquiry today into the factors behind such recent anti-American demonstrations as those which marred Vice President Nixon's and will tour of South America.

The senator said the Public Roads subcommittee he heads will meet Tuesday to consider the GAO report.

Because federal aid funds for highways must be voted and apportioned well in advance, Gore said, the division among states for fiscal 1959, which begins July 1, and fiscal 1960, a year later, must stand.

Gore said in a statement the GAO sampling survey found that design standards, traffic estimates, and costs lacked the uniformity asked by Congress in passing the Highway Act.

Returning Cone No U. S. Problem Now

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A U.S. Army ballistic chief said today the United States now faces no major problem in getting a missile warhead back to earth.

Lt. Col. John V. Fill, commenting at a news conference on the recovery of the nose cone of a Juniper missile Sunday, added:

"We now feel we have engineering data which would allow somebody to construct it."

The nose cone, plucked from the sea a few hundred miles off Puerto Rico and brought here, already is slated to be flown back to the United States Tuesday. It weighs 2,000 pounds and is about six feet long.

Fill said the cone's descent in early May was slowed down by a parashute which opened automatically at a certain altitude. This was done to prevent damage when the cone struck the water. As soon as it hit, a balloon inflated automatically to hold the cone near the surface until a metal buoy was attached.

Says Mouse Was in One Nose Cone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force ballistic missile chief says he was in error in denying to the House Space Committee that a mouse had been placed aboard a long-range rocket shot over the Atlantic.

Gen. Bernard A. Shriever expressed his regrets in a letter to Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of the government information subcommittee.

The nose cone in which the mouse traveled was never removed.
